Vol. VI No. 1 THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF THE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT OF SAINT MICHAEL'S COLLEGE OF LAGUNA March 2010

Message from the President

Two thousand and nine was a very challenging, if not most difficult, year for many individuals, business entities and financial institutions. They operated against a backdrop of a global economic downturn and looming financial crunch. These gloomy economic and social realities have put education at a most critical and crucial point. We in this noble endeavor have no choice but to embrace and adapt to these challenges and turn them into opportunities that will improve and enhance our service delivery. We owe it to ourselves and to our stakeholders and publics.

The future demands a collective responsibility, a healthy convergence that will create a happy, caring and nurturing environment where the commitment of one is the commitment of all.

This is easier said than done as this requires a more creative, innovative, focused and forward looking mindset. I may sound like a broken record but I will say this again and again. This innovative mindset will require a course of action that will inconvenience us. We have to move out of our comfort zones and try to unlearn what we are used to doing. The traditional and the old fashioned ways will have to give way to better alternative modes. The tried and tested strategies have to give way to new and fresh approaches in order to strike that delicate balance between the community of scholars and the corporate community. There is no other way.

Change is not a force to be feared but an opportunity to be seized. The choice is ours. We change or we become extinct. New technologies, new work environments and new paradigms continue to alter the way we think, act, and do business. In order to survive and thrive in these present times, we need to successfully ride the waves of change. We need to effectively position and excel under changing conditions and overcome mental obstacles in order to embrace the opportunities that they usher in.

Can we do it? Our time for change has come. Yes, we can. If we set our minds to achieve a goal, coupled with a lot of patience and persistence, we can always extend and even exceed the limits of our capabilities. By having the will and striving to care and share, our continued growth is assured.
